Justin Parker Neurological Institute 1155 Alpine Avenue, Suite 320 Boulder, Colorado 80304 www.bnasurg.com

FACULTY AND SPEAKERS

Lee Rebuli, MD
Dr. Rebuli received his MD from Baylor College of Medicine and Residency in Neurological Surgery from the University of Texas Health Sciences Center at Houston. He completed his Fellowship in Neurosurgery at the University of California, San Francisco in 1988. Dr. Rebuli is Board Certified in Neurological Surgery and a Clinical Professor at the University of Colorado School of Medicine.

Sangita Mehta, MD
Dr. Mehta is a board certified neurosurgeon and spine surgeon. During his career he has taught, done fellowships and been on the faculty at universities in Arkansas, Sydney, Colorado and Texas. Dr. Mehta currently practices at the University of Colorado and is one of the most accomplished spine surgeons in the world.

Chris Munson, MD
Dr. Munson received his MD from Duke University School of Medicine and completed his residency in neurological surgery at the University of Washington. He is a Professor of Neurological Surgery at the University of Colorado.

Alexander Mason, MD
Dr. Mason received his MD from Harvard University. He trained in both interventional medicine and neurosurgery at the University of California, San Francisco. Dr. Mason is an Assistant Professor of Neurological Surgery at Stanford University.

Alan Zacharias, MD
Dr. Zacharias received his MD from the University of Southern California School of Medicine. He is a Professor of Neurological Surgery at the University of Southern California and a Neurologist at the University of Southern California.

Sharad Rajpal, MD
Dr. Rajpal received his MD and neurosurgery training at the University of Wisconsin. He completed a combined orthopedic and neurological surgery fellowship at the nationally renowned Cleveland Clinic where he gained experience in the latest techniques in spinal oncology, minimal access surgery and complex spinal deformity.

Greg Arends, MD
Dr. Arends is a recognized leader in interventional pain medicine and has been associated with the American Pain Society for over 20 years. He is a Professor of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at the University of Colorado.

Sanjay Misra, MD
Dr. Misra is an Australian neurosurgeon and spine surgeon. During his career he has taught, done fellowships and been on the faculty at universities in Arkansas, Sydney, Colorado and Texas. Dr. Misra is an advisor for various national regulatory institutions and instructor for the American College of Surgeons.

Ed Arenson, MD
Dr. Arenson received his MD from the Harvard University. He is a Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Colorado.

Pete Reusswig, MD
Dr. Reusswig received his MD from the New York Medical College in Valhalla and completed his residency in anesthesiology at the UCLA Medical Center. He is the founder and President of Colorado Pain Management PC and the Medical Director of the Pain Center at Vibra Hospital.

6th Annual Symposium
Current Techniques in the Treatment of Cranial and Spinal Disorders

A concise review encompassing the rapid evolution and innovations in neurological and orthopedic spine technology, advancements in minimally invasive spine surgery, skull base tumors and cerebrovascular neurosurgery.

Saturday, September 11th, 2010
The Omni Interlocken Resort
Broomfield, Colorado

Jointly Sponsored by AANS in Conjunction with JPNI and BNA
Distinguished Visiting Professors

Kevin 0. Lifshitz, MD

Kevin Lifshitz went to Medical School at the University of Michigan, the medical center, and completed his residency in neurosurgery at the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center. Dr. Lifshitz is Director of the Neurosurgery-Neuro-Oncology Laboratory with his research interests in malignant glioma. In particular, he is interested in studying the role of the immune system in immunotherapy, and immunoregulation, and exploring the use of vaccines and vaccines as an adjuvant therapy for the treatment of malignant gliomas.

Daniel Sciubba, MD

Dr. Sciubba received his MD from Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. He completed his residency in neurosurgery and a combined fellowship under Dr. Z introduced him to the spine field, he also conducted a spine fellowship in products spine and business practice under Dr. Z and Dr. V. He is currently an Assistant Professor of Neurosurgery at the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center. Dr. Sciubba received his MD from Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons. He completed his residency in neurosurgery and a combined fellowship in spine surgery under Dr. Z and Dr. V. He is currently an Assistant Professor of Neurosurgery at the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center.